

THE EAST HAMPTON PRESS

WEDNESDAY, JULY 1, 2009

Polite politics

The recently formed Group for Good Government hosted a meet-the-candidates party on Saturday at the East Hampton home of one of its founders, Jeff Fisher. Clockwise from top, Suffolk County Legislator Jay Schneiderman, Republican supervisor candidate Bill Wilkinson, Group for Good Government member Lauren Schwartz, Assemblyman Fred W. Thiele Jr. and Democratic supervisor candidate Ben Zwirn; Mr. Thiele talks with fellow candidates; Democratic Town Board candidate Patti Leber, left, and East Hampton Town Republican Committee co-chairwoman Trace Duryea, both of Montauk; two former Marines, Democratic Trustee candidate Joe Gianni and Brian Carabine, whose wife Prudence is running for Town Board as an independent; and three members of the Talmage family, Trustee Stephanie Talmage, independent Town Board candidate Prudence Carabine, and Republican candidate for highway superintendent Thomas Talmage.

KYRIL BROMLEY PHOTOS

